Federal Act Affecting Larceny of Interstate Shipments.

An Act To punish the unlawful breaking of seals of railroad cars containing interstate or foreign shipments, the unlawful entering of such cars, the stealing of freight and express packages or baggage or articles in process of transportation in interstate shipment, and the felonious asportation of such freight or express packages or baggage or articles therefrom into another District of the United States, and the felonious possession or reception of the same.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, that whoever shall unlawfully break the seal of any railroad car containing interstate or foreign shipments of freight or express, or shall enter any such car with intent, in either case, to commit larceny therein; or whoever shall steal or unlawfully take, carry away, or conceal, or by fraud or deception obtain from any railroad car, station house, platform, depot, steamboat, vessel, or wharf, with intent to convert to his own use any goods or chattels moving as, or which are a part of or which constitute, an interstate or foreign shipment of freight or express or shall buy, or receive, or have in his possession any such goods or chattels, knowing the same to have been stolen; or whoever shall steal or shall unlawfully take, carry away, or by fraud or deception obtain, with intent to convert to his own use, any baggage, which shall have come into the possession of any common carrier for transportation from one State or Territory or the District of Columbia, to another State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or to a foreign country, or from a foreign country to any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or shall break into, steal, take, carry away or conceal any of the contents of such baggage, or shall buy, receive, or have in his possession any such baggage or any article therefrom of whatever nature, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall in each case be fined not more than FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS or imprisoned not more than TEN YEARS or both, and prosecution therefor may be instituted in any district wherein the crime shall have been committed. The carrying or transporting of any such freight, express, baggage, goods, or chattels from one State or Territory or the District of Columbia into any other State or Territory or the District of Columbia, knowing the same to have been stolen, shall constitute a separate offense and subject the offender to the penalties above described for unlawful taking, and prosecutions therefor may be instituted in any district into which such freight, express, baggage, goods, or chattels shall have been removed or into which they have been brought by such offender.

Sec. 2. That nothing in this Act shall be held to take away or impair the jurisdiction of the courts of the several States under the laws thereof; and a judgment of conviction or acquittal on the merits under the laws of any State shall be a bar to any prosecution hereunder for the same act or acts.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our kind friends and neighbors, and especially to the brother Masons, for their loving kindness to our deceased father and husband, J. W. Adams, during his sickness and death.

Deals In Real Estate, Stock and Crop Reports of Special Interest.

J. H. Turner sold 62 head of cattle that averaged about 1,100 pounds at $80.

John T. Burdette, of Lebanon, sold to John A. Watson 12 head of fat mules at an average of $225.

N. W. Pipes, of Lincoln county, sold 50 hogs to Wm. Tammie, of Milledgeville, at $8.25 per cwt.

Robert Forsythe had 16 ewes to drop 36 lambs. One of the ewes is the mother of four lambs.—Harrisburg Herald.

Avery Cooney, of Chicago, purchased of Woolridge & Edelen a nice Bohemian King chestnut filly for $1,000.—Harrisburg Leader.

J. L. Robbins recently bought some nice heifers at $50 a head. J. C. Bryan & Son bought a bunch of 500-pound heifers in Mt. Sterling at $32.—Paris Kentuckian-Citizen.

Robert E. Tipton sold to Geo. Colvin, of Boyd county, a car-load of hogs for April delivery at $1.25. A. L. Tipton sold his hogs to same party for delivery at the same time at $1.40.—Danville Messenger.

Checks for the loss of sheep in Fayette county for 1912, for depredations committed by dogs, were issued by County Clerk Lewis to farmers of the county for $701.88, or 65.57-100 per cent. of the total loss, which was $1,100.

At J. W. Carroll's sale in Jessamine, cows and pigs sold at $18 to $70; cows at $38 to $42; yearling heifers at $29 to $30; yearling steers $38; heifers $22.50; horses $100 to $140; mules $125 to $150; corn in crib $2.45; shoulders 14c, side meat 20c and hams 25c.

As high as $25 a hundred is sometimes paid for live toads by English and French gardeners. The toad is a highly appreciated personage in foreign gardens. Shelters are made for the toads—shallow holes in the ground covered with flat stones and boards. The toads will retire into them in the day and come forth at dusk for their nightly insect forays.

J. L. Hutchins bought 95 hogs weighing 150 to 200 pounds of Coffey & Bishop, of Moreland, at $1.4 to $1.45; 45 from Scott Bros., averaging 160 pounds, at $1.25; 15 of W. H. Owens, of Boyle, weighing 175 pounds, at $1.40; 24 200-pound hogs of Tammie Bros. at $1.30. Mr. Hutchins cannot ship them on account of the high water at Cincinnati.—Interior Journal.

The egg crop of the Southeast increased in value nearly $23,000,000 during the decade ending in 1909. Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Kentucky and Tennessee—with the addition of the adjoining States of Maryland, West Virginia and Delaware, produced in 1909 exactly 27 per cent. of the fowls raised in the entire country. In this same territory the production of eggs increased during the decade 26.15 and the value of the egg crop increased 122 per cent. The egg crop of the Southeast was worth $18,015,728 in 1899 and ten years later, worth $40,936,814, doubled, and with several million dollars to spare in ten years.

Judge Lynch Works Over- time.

According to the Chicago Tribune, in the four years from 1908 to 1912, there were 40 lynchings in Florida, 71 in Georgia, 46 in Mississippi, 33 in Louisiana, 30 in Alabama, 22 in Arkansas, 45 in Texas, 23 in Tennessee, 22 in Kentucky, 15 in South Carolina and 14 in Oklahoma. Virginia had but 4.

In each of these States, with the exception of Virginia, the number of lynchings exceeded the number of legal executions. The Virginia plan would seem the better.

The Woman And The Dog.

An elderly woman, with a small dog upon her lap, while riding in a Washington trolley car, asked the conductor if he would kindly tell her when they got to Hazel street. After she had gotten up two or three times, the conductor told her to keep her seat and he would let her know when they reached Hazel street. Finally he called out, "Hazel street!" The woman held the dog up to the window and said, "Fido, look! There's where you were born." Then turning to the conductor, she remarked, "I'm going to the end of the line."

KIRKSVILLE.

Mrs. N. B. Coy is spending a few weeks at Crab Orchard Sanatorium.

S. P. Ross is at Crab Orchard Springs and his health is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Helton's little girl, who has been dangerously ill, is convalescing. Drs. Gibson & Combs, are the attending physicians.

Our community is greatly in sympathy with our neighboring town, Paint Lick, on account of the damage suffered from the recent flood.

We are glad to know that Mr. Henderson Wheeler has returned from Berea Hospital, much improved.

The graded school at this place has a large attendance, and teachers and pupils are doing good work.

The Unexpected Happened.

One of the most remarkable things in connection with the death of J. Pierpont Morgan, the king of finance and the so-called "Wizard of Wall Street," is that instead of stocks on the New York exchange going down by leaps and bounds as has been the case when other men died who were connected with the street or largely interested in any particular stock, the market rebounded and nearly every stock showed an improvement from one to two or three points. Truly it is the unexpected that happens in Wall street. The reason for the advance is stated to be that somewhat protracted illness of the great financier had prepared the street for the worst, and that his death had been discounted.

The market has had a long period of depression because of his illness and other causes, real or imaginary, and in the natural course of the ups and downs in quotations it was time for a reaction. A great many people speculate in stocks, use charts and other devices which they think enable them to get on the winning side but the man who believes he knows anything about it even after great study, is fooling himself and will lose his money, if he always puts it on the so-called "good things." Mr. Morgan, who said in his examination before the Pujo Money Trust investigation Committee, that he never sold a stock short in his life, that is to say stocks that he didn't have, made millions in the stock exchange, but we all can't be Morgans and it is foolish for most of us to try.

The Secret of Honest Values

A number of years ago, in looking over business conditions, we came to the conclusion that our greatest asset was not our stock in trade or cash in the bank, but our customers' good will, our reputation for good values and square dealing. We determined to make the name "Oldham" stand as a synonym for "QUALITY"—to stand back of our goods and to see that the goods we sold were right. In studying our sources of supply, we found that some makers did business that way too; and some did not. But the ones we could rely on were the ones who put their NAMES in their goods and said always "These are ours, we made them, they're right and we will stand behind them"

Gossips' Tongues.

When gossips' tongues begin to move there's very little they approve. They rattle on with much to say of "Mrs. B." and "Mrs. A." Of scandal which they much deplore. But help to spread from door to door.

The gossips whisper at their tea And swear themselves to secrecy. Then, when the juicy bit is told And on their eager tongues is rolled; They sample it and find it good And tell it to the neighborhood.

Yet though all gossip brings but ill, And one should bid such talk be still; When scandal talk about doth fill, We listen to each word of it; A little gossip, now and then, Is relished by the best of men.
